

Call for Consultants

The Centre for Agro-Ecology and Development (CAED) is a non-profit organization started in 1992. It is non-political, non-religious, and works based on human rights. CAED supports marginalized and underserved communities, especially in remote areas of Nepal. It works in four main areas: food sovereignty and agroecology, sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR), empowerment of women, girls and children and the rights of Dalit and indigenous communities.

Center for Agro-Ecology and Development (CAED) is planning to commission two researches/studies on the following subjects as part of its ongoing program Women, Girls and Child Rights Program (WoGCRP) being implemented in Surkhet and Dailekh districts of Karnali Province.

1. Psychosocial Wellbeing of School-going Children in Naumule RM of Dailekh and Chaukune RM of Surkhet
2. Status of Child-Friendly Schools in Naumule RM of Dailekh and Chaukune RM of Surkhet

CAED calls for competent individuals or companies/institutions to undertake the researches/studies as per the Terms of Reference (ToR) available at the following link.
